

TONY & TINA

Wrapper in the Corridor

During recess, while talking to her friends, Sara drops a candy wrapper, not realising that the janitor has cleaned the place.

Principal, Sr. Margaret sees the wrapper and admonishes a surprised janitor.

Sara sees this and stops. Tina comes up to her.

Hey, it's okay. Don't be afraid.

Mistakes happen but do you know what would make Jesus happy?

He would want us to correct our mistakes, not get innocent people blamed.

But... I may get scolded.

Maybe, but that innocent lady is getting blamed wrongfully.

I'll come with you.

Good Morning girls!

Good Morning Sister!

That's very brave of you Sara!

Sister I'm the one who dropped that after the place was cleaned. It's my fault, not the janitor's.

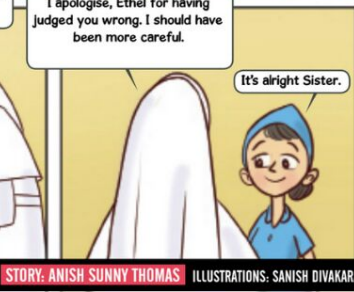

What is it, my child?

Sister, Sara has something to tell you.

I apologise, Ethel for having judged you wrong. I should have been more careful.

It's alright Sister.

STORY: ANISH SUNNY THOMAS ILLUSTRATIONS: SANISH DIVAKARAN